

Barbara H. "Barbie" Boyer

December 5, 1930 - October 26, 2008

Barbara Hoyt Boyer, 77, of Media, passed away on October 26, 2008 after an extended battle with cancer. Daughter of Albert M. Hoyt and Marguerite Dillon Hoyt, Barbie grew up in Chestnut Hill, PA. She graduated from Springside School and attended Sweet Briar College. After her sophomore year, she married John W. Boyer Jr., her husband of fifty-eight years. They spent the majority of their married years in St. Davids where they raised five children. Barbie had a love for gardening and was active in the Old Eagle Garden Club. Both she and her husband graduated from the Barnes Foundation Art School while she attended the Barnes Arboretum Program. In addition to her appreciation for the Lord's creation, over many years she attended and led Bible studies. Barbie was a founding member of Proclamation Presbyterian Church. There she and her husband led the Evangelism Explosion Ministry.

Barbie will be remembered for her enduring love and encouragement of her children and grandchildren. Despite her illness, she lived everyday with a spirit of joy.

She was predeceased by her son, John (Jay) W. Boyer III. Barbie is survived by her husband, John W. Boyer, Jr.; her brother, Richard Hoyt and his wife, Milagros; her son's wife, Betsy C. Boyer; her daughter, Margot B. Barsamian and her husband, Tarkis; her daughter, Elisa B. Moneymaker and her husband, David; her son, Creighton H. Boyer and his wife, Lori; her son, Dillon

H. Boyer and his wife, Susan; as well as eight grandchildren.

“ Dear Craig, Lori and family,

Sorry about the passing of your mom, but rejoicing in her ultimate victory. I know how hard it is to lose a mom, but God's grace is sufficient. We love you guys.
