“ Bram,

I love you with every bit of my heart. You have been a part fo my life for 41 years and there are few days that I can remember not seeing or talking to you even when I was living in Boston. I love you so very much. Thank you for being my firend and the most wonderful grand-mother anyone could ever hope for. I will see you someday. I love you. Here is a little poem I wrote for you.

Mom, Bram, GiGi...

*Bram, one of the names we all said first Living next to the Ferrells, you saw the best and the worse
A grandmother to 6, Great-grandmother to many You were always around with candy a plenty
You were born in 1912 far before the technological age Born a Wainwright in face and in name, a Daughter of the American Revolution, with a bright and long future and so much to gain.
You married a Gurk and had two kids and watched them grow and play and live Many times your kids were up to no good running amuck through the neighborhood.
Children grow as we all can see and Jannie-Lou and Wain became adults starting new families.
The Ferrell kids were blessed to live right down the street.
We were at your house all the time running to you first in diapers then bare feet.
Growing up there was never a day that we didn't see or talk to you in some way.
From parties to dinners to shopping and lunch not forgetting the Sunday Merion Golf club brunch!
You were a huge part of our lives more than most grandparents are which makes your passing even harder by far You grew from a daughter to mom, then to Bram and with the birth of Shea, GiGi, you became.
Many more great grandkids followed and you saw, held and hugged each one*

*The memories are endless and never forgotten.
We love you so much but will try not to cry, 96 wonderful years and now you can fly.
So to Yang Ming we will go for wonton soup and dumplings with your whole family there To celebrate your life and your presence felt everywhere##imported-begin##Liza Wainwright Jones##imported-“ Today end a chapter in my life that span almost 70 years. Of those 70 years there were vey few days that I didn't see or talk to you. I cannot see you anymore but your steadfast love will always be with me. You made me who I am today and I will always remember you in lifes passings for no one could touch my life as you have. I love you##imported-begin##Janet Louise Ferrell##imported-end##
