July 21, 1919 - December 31, 2011

Emma Rebecca Fox (nee Cooney), age 92, passed peacefully from this life on December 31, 2011. Becky had recently moved from her home in Pittsburgh to Rosemont Presbyterian Village to be nearer to her daughter, Becky Brinks (Keith) and her family. She was the wife of the late Wilbert T. Fox who preceded her in death by 27 years. Her son Tom Fox (Ilona) lives in McClean, VA. "Boppie" is lovingly remembered by her grandchildren Tory Fox Cacciato and Dean Fox and Will and Jane Brinks as well as by great-grandchildren Ella, Jake, Amelia Cacciato and Zoe Fox.

She was a woman of amazing energy, many talents and a deep faith. Her legacy is one of love, devotion and service to her family, her church, her friends and her Lord. She read two newspapers daily, was a skilled seamstress and volunteered for Meals on Wheels for over 20 years. Family and friends will fondly remember her meatloaf and raspberry jam. Many a relative enjoyed her hospitality when passing through Pittsburgh.

A long time member and Sunday school teacher at the First Baptist Church of McKees Rocks, she recently joined Bryn Mawr Presbyterian Church and particularly liked worshipping with her family. She lived each day of her 92 years with dignity and grace and will be deeply missed.

Interment will be private. Memorial contributions may be made to

So sorry to hear about your mothers passing. She was such a wonderful mother. She always treated all the girls with such love and kindness way back in our college days. Your family will be in my prayers.
