“ I hadn't seen my cousin Genevieve in a lot of years and it saddens me that I didn't know her as well as we got older. She was full of love, joy, wonder and laughter. Gosh that laugh, it could clear a cloudy day! I always looked forward to holidays and family reunions because I knew that we would have amazing adventures. Whether it be boogie boarding and building sand castles with the uncles at ocean city or exploring the hotel pretending it was haunted because we stayed up watching x-files or Christmas eves in PA exchanging Pollyannas and staying up too late driving our aunts crazy. When I think about holidays and family and love, I think about Genevieve. She was always a constant light in our Flood family, just like her mother, my Aunt Mare, and that can never be replaced. I will carry her spirit with me in every part of every day! I know she will be missed beyond measure by so many which is just a pure testament of how much love she gave to the world. I will forever miss her and I love her deeply.

“ Gen-Gen, as her family called her, let me take her and her sister out once in a while when she was a teenager. We went to the movies, Giggleberry, Villanova's church, and to get ice cream. Gen loved mischief, silliness, and singing - we'd do monkey impressions in the parking lot and car harmonies. Gen also came Christmas caroling with us in Peddlers View and didn't seem to mind being around all those older people :) Cynthia took Gen to my dance recitals and college dorm; Gen got a kick out of our beta fish. Thank you, Rudy and Cynthia, for the time I got to spend with your daughter. She loved her people in a big way, giving tight bear hugs to prove it. I'll offer the same for anyone who is missing Gen. Xoxo baby Sis.

“ My daughter Genevieve had stars in her eyes, brilliance in her mind, gold around her heart, and a Divine angelic glow in and around her soul. Her departure has created a personal abyss that can never be filled, never be measured, and never be erased from memory. Her absence is a burden that will be borne for the rest of my life. I love, and will love forever, my baby GaGa.

Gen lit up every room she walked into. She was kind and gentle and funny. So many happy memories of her with our daughter Molly. Always adventures, like the time they were driving to Squam Lake from Philadelphia and ended up in NYC! Oops, the wrong bridge. She took in all in stride! The McDonough's all miss you, dearest girl. ❤️
