“Jean, dear sister, you have left us for a better place. Although I miss you now and always will, I know that finally you have found the peace you so deeply deserve. Laughs? We had many through the years. Do you remember how uncontrollably we laughed when we re-lived some of our childhood moments and when we reminisced about our life experiences? I do. Yes, there were tears; but, most often those tears were trumped by smiles. I will miss terribly those private moments with you. But, I have the memories, and those I cherish. I am consoled knowing that you are at peace, sis. See ya sometime....
