Jennifer Comerci: A Life of Love, Dedication, Adventure and Perseverance

Jennifer Comerci, a beloved wife, mother, daughter, sister, and friend, peacefully passed away on May 15, 2024, surrounded by her cherished family in her hometown of Wynnewood, PA. Jennifer's generous heart impacted many lives, leaving a lasting impression on all who knew her.

Jennifer was the devoted wife of Thomas Comerci and the lovingly attentive mother of triplets Carina, Giacomo, and Giovanni. Her family was her world, and she filled their lives with unconditional love and joy. Born on September 8, 1971 in Meadowbrook, Pennsylvania, Jennifer was deeply influenced, cared for, and supported by both her mother Dolores and her stepfather, Kenneth, who played significant roles in shaping the woman she became.

Jennifer's academic journey was marked by determination and a passion for helping others. She earned her undergraduate degree from the University of Pittsburgh and went on to obtain her Master's degree in Social Work from the University of Pennsylvania. In 2018 she set her mind to becoming a nurse, a profession she greatly admired, and began her studies. Through hard work and perseverance, while simultaneously raising her three beautiful children, Jennifer earned her RN degree from Delaware Community College in May of 2021 and passed her board exams the following November.

Her professional career at Jefferson Hospital and Children's Hospital stood as a testament to her dedication to improving the lives of others through compassionate care. All along this journey, true to her nature, she forged deep friendships with her classmates and coworkers. Anyone who knew her felt like they were family. Having earned her RN, Jennifer worked beside her husband Tom to build a medical practice serving, with deep compassion, those striving to overcome addiction.

An adventurer at heart, Jennifer's love for travel took her across the globe, from the historic streets of England to an African safari and the sun-kissed shores of Panama and Italy. Her friends speak of her love of spontaneous road trips, and the fun had along the way. However, Mantoloking Beach, New Jersey, held a special place in Jen's heart and she very much cherished the time she spent there with her family and friends. These travels were more than just trips; they were journeys that enriched her soul and inspired her to embrace each moment with gratitude and love.

Jennifer leaves behind a legacy of love, warmth, and determination that will continue to live on in the hearts of her loved ones. She is survived by her husband, Tom and her children, Carina, Giacomo, and Giovanni. Jennifer loved her children with her whole heart. Many who knew her commented on the grace and good humor with which she navigated raising triplets. This was certainly true, but those traits belied the strength and fierce protectiveness she held for them. They were always first and foremost in her mind and heart. That she could raise such amazing children, all the while meeting her personal and professional goals, is simply more evidence of what a wonderful person she was.

Jennifer is also survived by her mother and stepfather, Dolores (Dee) and Kenneth Carlin; her father Harold (Newell) Deussing and stepmother Tarin; her brother, Evan Deussing, his wife Vanessa, and their children Penelope, Violet and Dean; her brother Chris Deussing; her step-sister Kim Dunphy, her husband John and their children Alexandria and Jack; her half-sister Caitlin Ahrens, her husband Greg, and their children Avery, Abby and Emma; her half-brother Andrew Deussing and his wife Tracey; her sister-in-law, MaryBeth Nuovo, her husband Thomas and their children Giuliana and Sofia; her brother-in-law John Commerci, his wife Susan and their children John, Alexander and Annie . . . and so many family, friends and loved ones that were so blessed to have loved her.

Jennifer's life was a beautiful tapestry woven with threads of kindness, dedication, humor and adventure. One of her most notable traits was her wonderful laughter. It could light up any room she was in, and if you were the lucky person to have elicited the laughter, you felt as if you had won the lottery. Her presence will be deeply missed and fondly remembered by all who had the privilege of knowing her. A memorial service to celebrate Jennifer's life and her enduring legacy of love and perseverance will take place at 1:00pm on Saturday, June 29, 2024, at the Schuylkill Center for Environmental Education in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

“ I knew Jen from Pitt and then afterwards as she studied Social Work with a close friend of mine. Jen had great energy and an awesome sense of humor. We lost such a special person and I'm so sorry to her family and dear friends. 💔

“ Jen and I were colleagues at Thomas Jefferson University Hospital, charged with introducing Social Work to the Trauma and Emergency Center. We shared a cubby with Ray Wisniewski from Patient Services. It was more fun than any of us should have been having, while engaged in very serious work with our co-workers. Jen was a valuable colleague from the moment we met, and handled our many challenges with grace, and lots of laughter. My deepest condolences to her husband and treasured triplets, and to all of her family and friends. She lives on, no doubt, in the hearts of all of us but especially her adorable children.

“ Jennifer was a source of light for me at a time when I was new to the area and raising twins. She faced challenges with such a down to earth yet optimistic frame of mind, and she made everyone feel comfortable in her presence. I still think of her often and I will continue to do so. Rest in peace.
