“ To the Deuber,

MY condolences to your family. Losing a loved one is always very difficult. GOD will give your family peace and love in the day ahead. Keep the faith in GOD and HE will see you through. The Bible says weeping will endure for the night but comfort comes in the morning. Hold on to GOD'S unchanging hand. Be Blessed.##imported-begin##Tanya Morgan-Williford##imported-end##

“ So many memories..... John was an unforgettable character. He asked for little yet gave so much and more to anyone needing help, friends and strangers alike, he made no distinction. His timing and wicked sense of humor could have your sides aching from laughing at the things he'd say and do in front of total strangers. More times than not, his hat would be spinning because he'd have so much left to do than the hours in a day. He usually put the needs of others ahead of his own but that was John. RIP John, we'll always remember you###imported-begin##Bill and MJ Copes###imported-end##

“ I lived around the corner from West Side for close to 50 years. John was a reliable and trusted auto mechanic and I valued his friendship. His loss is painful for all who knew him.

My heart grieves for his family at this time Please lean on God and His word.
