“ It was a pleasure to have Keith as my brother-in-law. He treated me warmly and was a good uncle to our kids. At family gatherings, Keith always worked the crowd in his special way, making everyone feel comfortable. On the 4th of July when our kids were younger, Keith would set off little fireworks shaped as tanks. He always put on a great show and had everyone laughing heartily. At our last family gathering together with him in June, he had an axe-throwing setup for us to try in the back yard. We had a wonderful time, and what stood out to me was the special rapport that he had with his kids.

A few months ago my in-laws moved out of the home that Keith and Kathy and Kent grew up in. Keith generously gave me an old mountain bike of his that had been hanging in the garage. That bike is now precious to me, as a connection with Keith, and I'll never ride it without thinking of him.

“ I was Keith’s only sister, older than him by exactly three years. One more sibling, Kent was four years younger than Keith. I remember helping with little Kent, but most of my early memories include just Keith and our adventures. Those were the days of black and white TV and cartoons only on Saturdays.

We built cities on long tables in the kitchen, and during the endless days of summer built roads for our little caravans in the soft dirt under our favorite tree. Our family also camped extensively across the country several times so Dad could go to grad school in Arizona. Those trips fueled our imaginations even more! By the time I was about 11 and Keith was 8, we would ride bikes by ourselves for miles in the surrounding countryside, stopping to explore streams and grab popsicles from our grandparents. We were true partners. As the demands of life increased and we both moved away from our hometown, we would still gather for holidays and Mom’s fabulous cooking. Keith loved to eat and tell stories! He could entertain a room full of adults and children (my five and his two) with ease. Keith also loved to connect individually and share in the details of our lives. My last contact with Keith was in June as we gathered to celebrate Grace’s graduation. He wrapped me in a big hug and told me how much he enjoyed me and my family. I will forever miss your love, laughter and big heart, dear Brother.

As Keith’s older sister by three years, my earliest memories include him by my side. He was my daily companion with a vivid imagination and a never ending sense of adventure. Work and play equally generated new ideas for Keith. We moved from building cities under a big tree to long bike rides through the country, countless camping trips, and in recent years holidays spent laughing around a big table filled with our mother’s fabulous cooking and our children. Laughter was as much a part of Keith as his legendary work ethic. He always had a twinkle in his eye, and a hilarious story to tell. I miss you more than I can say, little brother.

“ Keith was an exceptional family man and an extraordinarily generous neighbor. There was never a time when he didn't offer assistance. Keith had a work ethic like no other and passed this on to his children. I can still see his beautiful smile while walking his buddy Hunter. He will be missed by many for a very long time.

“ For not only myself, but all of us at that were lucky enough to be able to work with Keith throughout his time at CTL we are all deeply saddened by this tragedy. He generously contributed much to the development of many of the procedures we have in place with his knowledge, expertise and skill. There is an old quote that I find appropriate for Keith, “The value of a man should be seen in what he gives and not in what he is able to receive”. He gave his energy, commitment and inspiration to anyone with whom he worked. Keith was a genuinely warm and wonderful person, our sorrow is lessened by the comforting fact that we had the privilege of knowing him in his time with us.

“ Watching Keith and Matt working around the neighborhood together was so inspiring. They worked so hard together, and all that quality father-son time! This is a devastating loss for the Maplecrest Circle family, and I share my deepest sympathies with all of you. We are here to help in ANY way.

“ We as a family were so sorry to hear of the unexpected death of your husband, father. We have good memories of Keith as we were neighbors for almost 50 years with his parents. Our sons and Keith and his brother played together when they were growing up. The last I chatted with Keith he was at his parent's home getting some yard decorations . May God give you comfort and strength as you walk through this difficult time.
