“ We were good casual friends. When my husband Bernie was alive, we would often walk through Narberth after a snowfall and run into Mary and Buck. Mary in her friendship with us would often say-- come back to the house later and let's have a meal together.

Or, I would drive to their house on a wonderful summer morning and drop in and join them for breakfast or just iced tea on their wonderful porch.

I will miss these casual visits and her easy manner

“ Mary Liz was so spectacular! I remember meeting her 57 or so years ago when I first was dating Peter and thinking how calm, cheerful, and clever she was to be the mother of six, and married to the first of five! It never seemed to cause her any distress, just happiness, love, busy-ness, and many responsibilities, all of which she seemed to thrive on! Not to mention how smart she was and so well educated, so thoughtful, so generous, and loving! Not to mention funny and fun! We will all miss her ever so much, but fortunately we'll retain many fond memories of what a terrific woman, wife, mother, and friend she was!! Much love and big hugs, Lee
